Affectivity and Technology: Philosophical Explorations
IUSS Philosophy Workshop – May 19th, 20th, 2022

*L&PIC - Linguistics & Philosophy Center IUSS Pavia
The Mark of the Mental Project (MOM)*

IUSS/UniSR PhD program Cognitive Neurosciences and Philosophy of Mind

Speakers
Laura Candiotto, Pardubice University
Marco Fasoli, University of Roma - La Sapienza
Richard Heersmink, Monash University
Joel Krueger, Exeter University
Giulia Piredda, IUSS Pavia

Official Program

2022, May 19

15.15 – Welcome
15.30-16.30 – Joel Krueger (Exeter University) – Communing with the dead online
16.30-16.45 – Coffee break
16.45-17.45 – Laura Candiotto (Pardubice University) – Extended loneliness. When hyperconnectivity makes us feel alone
17.45-18.45 – Giulia Piredda (IUSS Pavia) – Artifacts, affordances, scaffolds: some epistemological considerations

2022, May 20

09.45-10.45 – Richard Heersmink (Monash University) – Preserving narrative identity for dementia patients: Embodiment, distributed memory, and wellbeing
10.45-11.00 – Coffee break
11.00-12.00 – Marco Fasoli (University of Roma La Sapienza) – Manipulation through information technologies and A.I.-based technologies: the need for an ethical assessment
12.00-12.30 – General discussion

The workshop will take place in person.
Nevertheless, participation will also be available via Zoom at https://iusspavia.zoom.us/j/99529506550

Everyone is invited. Info at: Giulia Piredda, giulia.piredda@iusspavia.it