SECCIONAL CARTAGENA

OVERVIEW

The Intensive Program 2016 on “SDGs and the Age of Sustainability: Ready for a reset?”, which will be held in Pavia April 18-22, 2016, represents the chance to present and discuss the various aspects in which development cooperation is changing through time. The course, taught in English, is organized by the Cooperation and Development Network (CDN).

The program, which will be characterized by lectures, exercises and simulations, will mainly focus on:

- New theoretical and political scenarios (the new 2030 Agenda, The role of structural transformation and the contribution of migration and diasporas, the effects of climate change on development and human rights, food security and the SGDs and innovative finance);
- New challenges for the New Development Cooperation (social inclusion, aid effectiveness, accountability, role of civil society, impact evaluation).

WHO MAY APPLY?

The Intensive Program 2016 is open to a maximum of 10 participants and is addressed to professionals, aspiring professionals, members of organization within the Third Sector, project managers but also researchers in the field of Development Cooperation.
