ELI 2012 Summer School: Regulation of Energy Markets

Period: Monday 18 June 2012 to Friday 22 June 2012

Location: Faculty of Economics, Reading Room, Via San Felice 5 - Pavia

The aim of this summer school is to offer a law and economics perspective on the regulation of energy markets. Main points of interest are the European and national perspectives of energy regulation, the three energy packages and their effects on liberalisation, the introduction of regulatory energy agencies and their economic reason for existence, the economics of energy and resource management and, finally, the Italian energy strategy.

Lawyers, economists, social scientists and professionals interested in this approach can find intriguing cues for their research during this stimulating week.
